Smile Lines: A flash city broker was unwinding in a bar at the end of the working week and looking for some entertainment. Waving wads of cash he announced, "if anyone here can drink twenty pints of Guinness, I'll give them five hundred pounds." The barman lined up twenty pints on the bar, but nobody took up the challenge. Then without saying a word, one man climbed off his stool, walked out of the bar and returned a few minutes later declaring that he could drink all twenty. And to everyone's astonishment he did. The broker begrudgingly handed over the money and asked the man where he had popped out to. "Well he slured, first I had to go to the bar next door to make sure I could do it!"

Wrong water: A mother was watching her four year old son playing outside in a small plastic pool half-filled with water. He was walking back and forth across the pool with an expression of great concentration on his face, and making big splashes. Suddenly, the little boy stopped, stepped out of the pool, and with a look of disgust, began to scoop water out of the pool with a pail. "What's wrong, dear?" asked the mother. "My teacher said Jesus walked on water, and this water doesn't work," he replied.

Off to school: Mother to a young daughter after first day at school: "Well dear, what did they teach you today?" Daughter: "Not much. I've got to go back again tomorrow."
