Smile Lines:How well do you know your spouse?

At a seminar on Marriage, the priest was stressing how essential it is that couples discern what is important to their partner. He challenged the men: "Can you even name your wife's favourite flower?" Baffled silence followed, until one husband nudged his wife with a hopeful smile and hazarded: "MacDougal's Self Raising, isn't it?"

Milky sermon. A Somerset parish magazine told how ministers from the Welsh valleys were distressing the older members of the Chapel by the length of their sermons. On one occasion an elderly man greeted the minister "And what is the subject of your sermon this morning?" "The milk of human kindness," replied the minister. "Ah," the old man mused a moment, "Condensed, I hope?"

Life and death. The vicar was preaching a powerful sermon concerning death and judgement. In the course of his sermon, he said "Just think – all of you living in this parish will one day die." At this a man in the front pew began to laugh quietly. After the service the vicar demanded sternly why he had found such a serious subject so funny? The man explained: "I was just happy, because I don't live in this parish."

Hereafter: A priest was talking to one of his parishioners. He said: "When you get to my age, you spend a lot more time thinking about the hereafter. "Why do you say that," enquired the parishioner. The priest replied: "Well I often find myself going into a room and thinking: "whatever did I come in here after?"
